

Exclusive Indonesian COAL Directory, 2013 – 2014

Indonesia is known as the second largest coal exporting country in the world after Australia with increasing coal production in the last seven years. In 2005, Indonesian coal production was only 149.7 million tons but in 2011 the production already reached 370.9 million tons. Although the target of coal production in 2012 slightly declined to reach 340 million tons, the production in 2013 is estimated to rise in line with the rising demand for coal of India used to meet the need of its electric power plant and the demand of Japan which is also used to turn its nuclear powered plants into steam powered plants

Viewing high growth of coal industries above, lots of domestic and foreign investors are attracted to run their business in this industry. Based on data from Capital Investment Coordinating Board (BKPM) that in 2011 and 2012 many companies had proposed their permit to enter this business. Even, a number of non coal companies had also entered into coal industry such as MYOH Technology (MYOH), ITAMARAYA (ITMA), DUTA Pertiwi Nusantara (DPNS), RATU Prabu Energi (ARTI), BHAKTI Investama (BHIT), MEDCO Energi International (MEDC), ANEKA Tambang (ANTM), AKR Corporindo (AKRA) and BARITO Pacific (BRPT).

Meanwhile, many large sized companies have also performed expansion steps by issuing great fund to acquire mines or to add their share ownership. So, they are able to control the companies. Their objective is to increase coal production, to rise sales and to obtain high profits. The large sized companies above include ADARO, BUMI, ITMG, UT, BYAN, BORN, INDY and others.

Based on investigation carried out by CDMI that there are more than 50 large sized company groups performing expansion. Therefore, the ownership of lots of mining companies in Indonesia has turned and changed the composition of management.

Viewing the enthusiasm of mining companies above, PT. Central Data Mediatama Indonesia (CDMI), a leading independent consulting company, is attracted to perform a deeper investigation. Eventually, the company has succeeded in compiling more than 700 mining companies in entire Indonesia of which the data has already been renewed and published a book with the title of “Exclusive Indonesian COAL Directory, 2013 – 2014”.
